The Majesty's Government have received information that certain German warship vessels, the names of which are shown in the list hereunder, have been detained by the Belgian authorities on Antwerp on the outbreak of hostilities and that a Commission has been constituted, by Decree of August 11th, 1914, to prepare instructions of the capture of these vessels, determining between enemy ships and those owned by the subjects of a third or neutral State.

By a British Decree of August 17th, 1898, it is provided that claims arising in consequence of the capture of enemy and neutral vessels and their cargoes shall be submitted to the Tribunal of First Instance at Antwerp, to whom the above Commission is to report.

It is therefore desirable that British subjects interested therein should take steps in order to protect their interests before the Tribunal by forwarding to their agents at Antwerp documentary evidence in support of their claims, employing for the purpose such legal assistance as may be necessary.

In the meantime the Majesty's Consul-General at Antwerp is taking steps to safeguard the interests of British cargo owners, under article 3 of the Decree of August 18th, 1898, which permits for the intervention before the Commission of the Consular officer of the country concerned.

NOTICE TO CANDIDATES FOR THE PRAISE-WRITING TEST.

The following instructions are published in order that candidates may know what is expected of them in this test:—

Instructions to candidates.

The object of a prize is that any one who has not time to read the original correspondence may, by reading the prize, be put in possession of all the leading features of what passed.

2. The candidate should begin by reading the whole of the correspondence carefully through without writing anything, so that he may clearly understand what passed and be in a position to decide what are the main heads under which the important facts should be arranged. He should then read through the paper again, marking what is important.

3. The prize should begin with a brief and lucid introduction to the subject under treatment. This should be followed by a narrative in the past tense containing a brief and clear statement of the contents of the correspondence, and in the order of the papers now seen. Accuracy is chronological order, but in typical order. An abstract of every paper in the correspondence as an index of its contents is not a prize.

4. The merits of a prize are—

- (1) to contain all that is important in the correspondence and nothing that is unimportant;
- (2) to present this in a readable and systematic shape, expressed intelligibly and distinctly as possible;
- (3) to be as brief as is compatible with completeness and clearness;
- (4) to present a strictly accurate and logically connected statement of the contents of the correspondence.

No candidate was expected to pass who omits any one of the more important points, marks will be deducted if important points are included or if facts are repeated unnecessarily; e.g., it is not unduly necessary to give the date of every paper in the correspondence and the full name and designation of the writer or recipient of every letter; and if a fact is repeated in different papers it need not generally be noted more than once in the prize.

5. Grammar, spelling, style and handwriting will be considered in assigning marks; but it must be remembered that mere excellence in composition will not compensate for inaccuracy or incompleteness in the presentation of the facts of the correspondence.
